

Title of the book	Author	Description
You know your child is gifted when.....	Judy Galbraith	A beginner's guide to life on the bright side!
Keys to parenting the gifted child	Sylvia Rimm	Is your child unusually gifted? Here are some reliable guidelines for making that judgment, as well as recommendations for making sure your child is challenged in the classroom. You'll also find advice on dealing with emotional stresses for the gifted child.
Giftedness 101	Linda Silverman	Gifted 101 dispels common myths about giftedness. It offers guideline for parents and teachers.
"Mellow out" they say. If only I could!	Michael M. Piechowski	Intensities and sensitivities of the young and bright. The focus of this book is on emotional life of young bright children.
Living with intensity	Susan Daniels and Michael Piechowski	Understanding the sensitivity, excitability, and emotional development of gifted children, adolescents and adults.
The gifted kids' survival guide	Judy Galbraith	This book contains ideas from gifted kids about being a gifted child.
The survival guide for parents of gifted kids	Sally Walker	How to understand, live with and stick up for your gifted child.
Bright not broken	Dianne Kennedy and Rebecca Banks	Gifted kids, ADHA and autism. Why twice-exceptional children are stuck and how to help them.
Nurturing gifted and talented children	Ministry of Education	This is a NZ publication from the Ministry of Education. The book suggests ways that parents and teachers can work in partnership to support the learning of gifted and talented students.

Tall Poppies magazines

NZ Association for Gifted Children

These magazines have lots of information about gifted education in New Zealand.